

Greg Moors

Innovation leader and change champion who looks to technology innovations to find ways for organizations to focus on ways to improve the client experience. A student of the kaizen philosophy, Greg helps people and organizations find ways to continuously improve their products and processes. He is a strategic thinker who excels at getting broken systems back on track, triaging issues and moving organizations to success.

SELECTED ACHIEVEMENTS

- As interim CEO at a health care service organization converted the office to digital documentation and made the office virtual resulting in rent savings and enabling the organization to continue virtually unaffected by the onset of the pandemic in 2020
- During a 6 months Interim CFO placement, implemented an IT service desk and standardized corporate issued equipment enabling IT staff to provide a better customer experience and be more efficient at issue resolution.
- Led a number of technology innovations which have become industry standard such as developing paperless meetings and establishing online renewal and payment systems.
